INTRODUCTION

The 2026 midterm elections produced a historic win for Democrats who took control of the Senate and House. It was also a referendum on President Trump's policies and on a Republican message that fell flat with voters concerned about affordability and perceived political corruption.

The Democrats flipped Senate seats in Iowa, Kansas, Maine, North Carolina, Ohio, South Carolina, and Texas and will control the Senate with at least 54 senators (including independents who caucus with Democrats). At the time of this writing, there are still two races to be called in Alaska and Mississippi that could further increase the Democratic margin in the Senate.

The Democrats also won control of the House with at least 33 pick-ups in all parts of the country. Results in dozens of races are outstanding as votes are still being counted, but it appears the Democrats will have more than 250 members in the new Congress, a significant margin.

These results change the political dynamics for the remaining two years of the Trump Administration. The Democrats will have control of the legislative branch and can thwart the Administration's priorities, conduct investigations, and advance their own legislative agenda. At the same time, President Trump and the Administration will continue to act through Executive Action and the President will be able to use his veto power to stop legislation that lacks bipartisan support. The central question is whether the partisan split in the federal government can produce progress on areas of common ground.

This comprehensive guide we prepared for the 2026 midterm elections summarizes the results and their impact on the 120th Congress that convenes in January of next year. Our Election Guide lists all new Members elected to Congress, updates the congressional delegations for each state, and analyzes the coming changes to the House and Senate committees by displaying updated committee rosters and new Democratic committee chairs.

For additional information regarding the effects of the recent elections, please contact Tim Peckinpaugh, Brendan Lawlor, or any member of the K&L Gates Public Policy and Law practice group.

ABOUT THE ELECTION GUIDE

K&L Gates prepared this comprehensive guide to summarize how the 2026 midterm elections will impact the new 120th Congress. It includes updated state congressional delegations and anticipated changes in House and Senate committees.

- All new Members of Congress are listed alphabetically by state, along with links to their campaign websites, which contain biographical information. Outgoing Members of Congress are listed with the reasons for their departures.

- Complete delegations for each state are included with new Members of the House and Senate highlighted in yellow to indicate no change in party, with their predecessors shown. Seats that switched parties are highlighted in red for Republican pick-ups and blue for Democratic pick-ups. Races that are too close to call are highlighted gray.

- Rosters for each full committee in the 119th Congress are included, with non-returning members lined out. The likely chairs and ranking members for each Senate and House committee for the new 120th Congress are also noted.

[29] The Louisiana partisan primaries and primary runoffs, initially scheduled for May 16, 2026, and June 27, 2026, respectively, were canceled after the U.S. Supreme Court ruled in Louisiana v. Callais that the state's map for U.S. House seats was an unconstitutional racial gerrymander. Following these cancellations, nine candidates ran in a jungle primary on November 3, 2026. The race will proceed to a December 12, 2026, general election as no candidate received more than 50 percent of the November 3 vote.
[30] The U.S. Supreme Court overturned Louisiana's 2024 congressional redistricting map in Louisiana v. Callais on April 29, 2026, ruling that Louisiana's 6th congressional district—which had been redrawn as a second majority-Black district—was an unconstitutional racial gerrymander. Ten candidates ran in a jungle primary on November 3, 2026, to replace incumbent Rep. Cleo Fields (D), who decided not to seek reelection and instead ran for his former Louisiana state Senate seat. The race will proceed to a December 12, 2026, general election as no candidate received more than 50 percent of the November 3 vote.

SOUTH DAKOTA

Senate

Thune, John (R) — Next Election: 2028
Rounds, Mike (R) Reelected — Next Election: 2032

House of Representatives

At Large – Jackley, Marty (R) won an open seat. Johnson, Dusty (R) ran for governor and lost in the primary.

[39] After Sen. Lindsey Graham (R) died on July 11, 2026, Governor Henry McMaster (R) appointed his sister, Darline Graham (R), to finish out his term. On July 20, 2026, she announced that she would run for a full term. She finished first in the special Republican primary and defeated Rep. Ralph Norman (R) in the August 25 runoff.

TENNESSEE

Senate

Blackburn, Marsha (R) ran for governor and won.[40] Next Election: 2030
Hagerty, Bill (R) Reelected Next Election: 2032

House of Representatives

1st District – Harshbarger, Diana (R) (Incumbent)
2nd District – Burchett, Tim (R) (Incumbent)
3rd District – Fleischmann, Chuck (R) (Incumbent)
4th District – DesJarlais, Scott (R) (Incumbent) OR Broderick, Victoria (D) defeated incumbent DesJarlais, Scott (R).

8th District – Kustoff, David (R) (Incumbent)
9th District – Taylor, Brent (R) OR Pearson, Justin (D) won an open seat. Cohen, Steve (D) retired following redistricting.[42]

[40] Sen. Marsha Blackburn (R), who was elected governor on November 3, 2026, has said she will keep her Senate seat until she is sworn in as governor in January 2027 and then resign, which will allow her to appoint her own successor. Under Tennessee law, the appointee will serve until a special election in November 2028 for the rest of the term, which expires in January 2031.
[41] Rep. Matt Van Epps (R) won a special election on December 2, 2025, to fill the remainder of former Rep. Mark Green's (R) term after he resigned in July 2025.
[42] Rep. Steve Cohen (D) announced on May 15, 2026, that he would not seek reelection after Tennessee's legislature redrew the state's congressional map following Louisiana v. Callais, splitting his Memphis-based district. Rep. Cohen said the new districts "were drawn to beat me" and that he would reenter the race if the courts blocked the new map. Litigation surrounding the new map is ongoing.

24th District – Van Duyne, Beth (R) (Incumbent)

25th District – Williams, Roger (R) (Incumbent)

26th District – Gill, Brandon (R) (Incumbent)

---

[43] Rep. Christian Menefee (D) won a special election on January 31, 2026, to serve out the remainder of Rep. Sylvester Turner's (D) term after he died on March 5, 2025. Rep. Menefee defeated Rep. Al Green (D) in the May 26, 2026, Democratic primary runoff for the redrawn 18th district. Texas's mid-decade redistricting had moved Rep. Green's residence, along with most of his constituents, into the 18th district from the 9th district, which he had represented since 2005.

[44] Trever Nehls (R) is the twin brother of Rep. Troy Nehls (R).

[45] Rep. Tony Gonzales (R) resigned on April 14, 2026. Texas Governor Greg Abbott (R) did not schedule a special election to replace him ahead of the November 3, 2026, elections.

27th District – Cloud, Michael (R) (Incumbent) OR Lloyd, Tanya (D) defeated incumbent Cloud, Michael (R).
28th District – Cuellar, Henry (D) (Incumbent)
29th District – Garcia, Sylvia (D) (Incumbent)
30th District – Haynes, Frederick (D) won an open seat. Crockett, Jasmine (D) ran for Senate and lost in the primary.
31st District – Carter, John (R) (Incumbent)
32nd District – Barrios, Dan (D) OR Yarbrough, Jace (R) won an open seat. Johnson, Julie (D) ran for reelection in the 33rd district following redistricting and lost in the primary.
33rd District – Allred, Colin (D) won an open seat. Veasey, Marc (D) retired following redistricting.[46]
34th District – Gonzalez Jr., Vicente (D) (Incumbent)
35th District – Garcia, Johnny (D) won an open seat. Current incumbent Casar, Greg (D) ran for reelection in the 37th district following redistricting.
36th District – Babin, Brian (R) (Incumbent)
37th District – Casar, Greg (D) won an open seat.[47] Doggett, Lloyd (D) retired following redistricting.[48]
38th District – Bonck, Jon (R) won an open seat. Hunt, Wesley (R) ran for Senate and lost in the primary.

[46] Former Rep. Colin Allred (D) represented the 32nd congressional district from January 2019 to January 2025, leaving the House to challenge Sen. Ted Cruz (R) in 2024, a race he lost. He launched a 2026 Senate campaign but withdrew in December 2025 to run for the 33rd congressional district seat held by Rep. Marc Veasey (D), who did not seek reelection after redistricting drew his Fort Worth base out of the district. Rep. Julie Johnson (D), who succeeded Allred in the 32nd congressional district, also ran in the 33rd because Texas's mid-decade redistricting made the 32nd heavily Republican and moved about a third of its residents into the 33rd. Allred defeated Johnson in the May 26, 2026, Democratic primary runoff.
[47] Rep. Greg Casar (D) currently represents the 35th congressional district.
[48] Rep. Lloyd Doggett (D) did not seek reelection after Texas's mid-decade redistricting placed Rep. Casar (D) in his Austin-based 37th district. Rep. Doggett said he preferred to avoid a primary against a fellow Democrat.

UTAH

[49] In November 2025, a Utah state judge struck down the Legislature's congressional map, finding it was drawn to favor Republicans in violation of Proposition 4, the state's anti-gerrymandering initiative. The judge adopted a map creating a Democratic-leaning district in Salt Lake County. The map is in place for the 2026 elections, but further court action could affect its use in later cycles.
[50] Rep. Blake Moore (R) currently represents the 1st congressional district.
[51] Rep. Celeste Maloy (R) currently represents the 2nd congressional district.
[52] Rep. Mike Kennedy (R) currently represents the 3rd congressional district.

SENATE COMMITTEES

Please Note: The Senate committee rosters below are based on information from the 119th Congress. The committee ratios shown in the rosters reflect the 119th Congress and will likely change in the 120th Congress. The likely chairs and ranking members for most of the Senate committees for the next Congress are in bold at the top of each column. When new likely chairs and ranking members are not clear, the positions are marked "Vacant" and potential candidates are bolded.

The committee rosters reflect the 119th Congress but have been flipped to show Democrats as the majority, with chairmanships noted. Republicans are shown as the minority, with ranking member positions noted.

Senators who will not return in the 120th Congress are lined out. Senators whose general election races have not yet been called by NBC, and whose opponents have not conceded, are not lined out; their status will be updated as results are finalized.

We will update this information as chairs and ranking members are selected and the rosters are finalized for the new Congress.

HOUSE COMMITTEES

Please Note: The House committee rosters below are based on information from the 119th Congress. The committee ratios shown in the rosters reflect the 119th Congress and will likely change in the 120th Congress. The likely chairs and ranking members for most of the House committees for the next Congress are in bold at the top of each column. When new likely chairs and ranking members are not clear, the positions are marked "Vacant" and potential candidates are bolded.

The committee rosters reflect the 119th Congress but have been flipped to show Democrats as the majority, with chairmanships noted. Republicans are shown as the minority, with ranking member positions noted.

Members who will not return in the 120th Congress are lined out. Members whose general election races have not yet been called by NBC, and whose opponents have not conceded, are not lined out; their status will be updated as results are finalized.

We will update this information as chairs and ranking members are selected and the rosters are finalized for the new Congress.
